This is a time for change. It has been a great year. What a growing and dynamic University we have! Additions have been made to enhance the buildings on campus and beautify the grounds. What a difference in campus life the new Student Center has made! The new deck overlooking the pond is another unique feature to the University. Other additions include Sanders Court with its flowers and striped umbrellas, the new walkway around the pond, all the new classrooms--that at last are comfortably equipped to sit in, just to mention a few.

We are blessed to see extensive expansion in our Library, with over 250,000 selections and titles. Students also have access to a larger, full-service bookstore, a new student mail facility, computer lab privileges, and a digital voice message system for on-campus housing. State of the art advances have been made in the computer center with the worldwide network of networks, The Internet. Going forward, future plans include detailed landscaping, an outdoor amphitheater and new student housing developments.

The Lord has worked among us in so many ways here at Colorado Christian University. Our Athletic and Intramural Teams, University Choir and Music Departments, Student Life Staff, various Clubs and Ministries, and Faculty members have impacted the community in a significant way. Each of these groups have represented us well. From Conference standings to North Central Ratings to guest appearances at Carnegie Hall, we are the voices of a Christian community with integrity.

As you reflect on this past year, think of the number of friends that you made . . . and think of those that grew in faith and in their confidence in God's grace. Think of the ways that you grew in understanding under the challenge and intellectual stimulation of a favorite professor. It is the quality of our faculty that has really made the year for you. Highly trained and well-educated professionals prepare each class for you, pray for you, and daily dedicate their lives to helping you better understand the world in which we live.

For you this year, Colorado Christian University was your academic home and spiritual hub. But if you think this year was good. . . wait until next year!

For every season

there is a time . . .

a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain, a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, a time to tear down and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war a time for peace.

for Traditions

Come and get it! Women at the Freshman and New Student Retreat enjoy the grub of the Frontier Ranch style!

Traditions: Old and New

Colorado Christian University has instilled within the hearts of its people a desire to revive and renew fading traditions. Through many avenues of building a collegiate community, we have begun to soar to new heights. Each year we find ourselves in the midst of yet, another wild and wacky activity. These include Midnight Madness, O'Malley's Alley, the Annual T. P. Rush, and the Spring and Freshman Retreats.

Other not-so-outlandish events are the Candle Lighting Ceremony, the Day of Prayer and Weekly Chapel.

Heather Ballew and Cristi McKinley play Tarzan as they fly through the forest on the tree swing.

Amy Hopkins "strikes a pose" in the midst of an entangling and nerve-racking ropes course at the Retreat. The Retreat is a CCU tradition which introduces new students to returning students and incorporates fellowship with friendship.

Students start spreading the news at the Cougar Men's first Basketball game. The newspaper ploy is a brand-spankin' new tradition of absurdity.

COUGAR PRIDE

CCU! Go Big Blue! CCU! Go Big Blue! CCU! Go Big Blue!

J.J. Chastain , Rob Lilley, Brian Hoffman, Mike Kerr and Chris Sage display the faces of tradition, Cougar Pride, at the first men's basketball game of the season. Noxema skin care products were later added to the list of team sponsors.

Teammates on the opposing side for the CCU Tip-off Tournament discuss the endless uses for toilet paper. One player suggests, "Hey, dude, we ought to grab some of this for our apartment."

Colorado Christian University spirit begins with Christ and ends with the Cougar. Our court spirit stands tall thanks to the cheer squad.

Are You Ready For This?

"A ring before Spring or your money back!" is said to be another long-standing CCU tradition. Tonya Wenzel and Blair Grant fulfill this tradition with a date set for June 3, 1995. Here the couple is posing for an engagement announcement snap-shot.

Michelle Rose and new husband Joe Waylan met and married Dec. 17 of 1994. The two joined the nearly 100 other couples who have taken the plunge this year.

Also tying the knot, Christine Geibel Stair and Larry Stair said their vows over Christmas Break. Professor and friend R. J. Koerper presided.

ENTERTAINMENT

Since time began the arts have touched the lives of audiences around the world. The Music and Drama department of CCU presents many of Colorado's finest performances under the direction of an excellent leadership and production staff.

CCU has developed a reputation for Christ-centered-quality entertainment, performing for all ages. In the Drama department an encore showing of 1994 productions include Shadowlands, Pawn to King's Bishop, and Quilters. The Music department has had various class recitals, a Christmas concert, as well as various chapel performances. It is for these reasons the Music and Drama departments have a timeless tradition at CCU.

"It is a difficult story to tell, Elizabeth!"

"Remember who it is that you threaten!"

"Come with me. . . we will seek the King!"

S.G.A. & R.A.'S

Home Sweet Home: Campus Life at CCU

An integral part of Student Life, SGA and RA members seek to make campus life more enjoyable. From stairwell and PAC activities to late night talks and important meetings, their jobs keep them on their toes and on the go! These students who commit themselves to the welfare of the CCU community truly are servants of Christ. They initiate change, speak on behalf their fellow students, and constantly strive for the betterment of life on the CCU grounds. Making a significant difference in the lives of people is what makes this University both a prosperous and unique institution. For this, we are proud to call CCU our home away from home.

CLUBS AND MINISTRIES

Sharing the message of Christ with the community

As we, the student body strive to be more like Jesus Christ, we are continually giving ourselves to the surrounding community. Part of the commitment to serve is to make a sacrifice; for when much is given, much is required. Colorado Christian University takes great pride in sharing the Gospel message with those who have not heard, for the sake of the Kingdom. This is accomplished in many facets, by many people and through various organizations. This is the time for Clubs and Ministries.

Chris Piehl and Kurt Mosley are "Stayin' Alive" and ready to disco the night away at the Young Life Halloween-Alternative Party. Young Life is a Youth For Christ, USA ministry.

Pastor Trevor Bron, CCU Alum, speaks to an audience representing every major university in Denver. Tuesday Night Life (TNL) is a Generation X ministry of Applewood Baptist Church in conjunction with Colorado Christian University.

Troy Thurston, Kimberly Kampf, Nicole Ruble and others can be seen weekly at TNL. Here they are filling out response cards.

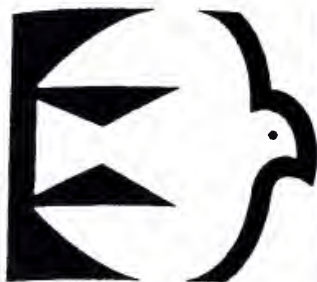

The Debate Team ponders the big match-up prior to the main event. Pictured are Cindy Reidel, Dirk Anderson, Jill Killinger, Kimberly McCabe, and Tim Schenck.

Pioneering trail-blazers of the Outdoor Club, Robert Gerst and Mike Davis pause to ponder the meaning of life as they commune with nature.

STUDENT LIFE

Impacting others through love, laughter, and life-style

Student Life ties together all aspects Colorado Christian University. Through good times and bad, through thick and thin, our lives impact others daily. On the housing side of campus, the academic side of campus and even off-campus, memories are in the making. One can catch a glimpse of the Colorado Christian University community and all that we represent in our conduct and our lifestyle. College Students are a unique breed and the time spent in an institution of higher learning can never be replaced. So as we live each day for our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, we know that for everything there is a season. This is a time for Student Life.

Thank you

We the staff, have endeavored to produce a quality publication, one in which we would be proud to distribute to you, the Colorado Christian University community.

In a concerted effort to meet scheduled deadlines, we collectively offered our thoughts and ideas on each section of the book, combing each page with precision and keeping within the theme of Ecc. 3:1-8. Although we are the one's who "put this baby to bed," the Reminiscence staff could not have completed this annual without you.

Our thanks go out to Mary Barnes, our Jostens Representative. As always, Mary, you are such a fresh burst of sunshine! On our late-night dead's when things got dark and dreary, your smiling rays would light the room.

Thank you to Brent Baker who is the back-bone of this fine publication. This yearbook business really did come to you quite naturally. You are our advisor, our leader and our friend. Thank you for making the entire yearbook experience such a wonderful thing!

Thank you to Jeff Green, who was unofficially named our Compugraphic Head. You did more than anyone would ever know and so much recognition goes unsaid. So please accept our mere thank you; we know it couldn't possibly make-up for the lost sleep!

And a very special thanks to you, CCU for another great year!

It is our hope that this book is both a practical and a spiritual tool. On the practical level, it is our aim that you use this yearbook as a reference to recognize your brothers and sisters in the CCU family. Spiritually, we pray Reminiscence becomes another medium which facilitates the furtherance of the Gospel and spurts the growth of the CCU student body.

May the function of this publication be to bring honor to our King. And ultimately, may the focus of this institution always be on our Lord and Savoir, Jesus Christ, of whom we give the glory!

The Colophon

A staff of eleven produced Colorado Christian University's 1995 Reminiscence. The 76 page book was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing of Topeka, KS. Two-hundred copies were sewn and printed on glossy paper and distributed on May 2, 1995. Primary fonts used were Helvitica and Palatino and each section was assigned and completed by an individual staff member. The book was produced on a Gateway 2000 4SX-33, using Aldus PageMaker 5.0. CCU students were charged $20.00 per book
